

Prosper Lincoln Week encourages community input

June 12, 2015 2:40 pm • By the Lincoln Journal Star

The week of June 14 to 21 is Prosper Lincoln Week, an event designed to energize the community, increase awareness of the Prosper Lincoln initiative and push for participation by all sectors of the city.

Several public activities are planned during the week to encourage people to submit their ideas for action by July 1 at www.ProsperLincoln.org.

Prosper Lincoln is a new community effort launched in May, designed to make Lincoln an even better place to live and grow. Following the release of the updated 2015 Lincoln Vital Signs report, people throughout Lincoln were encouraged to participate in a conversation on how to use the findings to develop a community agenda for positive change.

Discussion is focusing on nurturing youth success from cradle to career, growing economic prosperity and enhancing quality of life.

In August, the Prosper Lincoln Steering Committee will use the information to create a community agenda to build upon Lincoln's strengths and address areas of concern.

The work culminates this fall when a Prosper Lincoln Summit will be held to present action plans.